

Bio

Shayne Julius is currently the Director of Operations for ADR Vantage, Inc., a leading provider of organizational effectiveness, capacity building, and conflict management services to the federal government and private sector. Her experience includes providing training design and delivery, facilitation, evaluation/assessment, research and project/case management in law firm, government, business and academic settings. She holds an M.S. in Conflict Analysis and Resolution from George Mason University and is a Green Cross-certified Compassion Fatigue Educator.