

Bio

Yvette A. Hyater-Adams, MA-TLA is a highly sought after business coach and writing facilitator for leaders and artists ready to steer transformative change. She is a dedicated writer and leads others to write creative non-fiction, poetry, and fiction. As a long time practitioner in applied behavioral science, her skills are honed in understanding human behavior, action, and impact in organizations. Today, Yvette runs Narratives 4 Change and has a diversified range in working with narratives that include: 1) her own writing, 2) facilitating writing workshops, 3) coaching women who lead businesses and coaching writers. In continuing her advocacy for social change, she writes grants for non-profits. Yvette is the developer of the renowned transformative narrative methodology. She has a Graduate Certificate in Creative Writing, and an MA in Transformative Language Arts concentrating in writing for personal and social change. Her writing is featured in publications such as the Tamara Journal; The Power of Words: Social and Personal Transformation Through The Spoken, Written and Sung Word; Open Mic Jacksonville, Vol. 2, and What Happy Women Know. Yvette is writing a leadership memoir, Becoming Herself: A Woman Emerging as Leader of her Whole Life.
