

Dr. Bea Carson is an author, speaker and expert in the field of Action Learning. Dr. Carson has mastered teaching Action Learning to the full spectrum of organizational levels. She is an external OD consultant specializing in leadership development, problem solving and strategic planning. Bea has worked in private and public sectors, with profit and not-for-profit organizations, locally and internationally, for organizations of all sizes. Much of her work has been with highly technical organizations.

Dr. Bea is frequently asked to be a visiting faculty member at universities across the country. Bea has over 50 presentations and articles to her credit. Dr. Carson lives in Annapolis and is involved with the leadership in several community organizations including Annapolis Rotary, Special Olympics, Anne Arundel Medical Center and others.

Bea is cofounder and Director of Education and Certification for the World Institute for Action Learning (WIAL); Chair of the Board and president of WIAL-USA; and president and owner of Carson Consultants, www.carson-consultants.com.